SAVE THE DATE
APRIL 13, 2024

Best of Missouri Hands
Annual Meeting

Columbia, MO

SAVE THE DATE NOW for the upcoming BOMH Annual Meeting. This year's meeting will be held Electric Cooperative Community Room in the Electric Coop Building located at 1413 Rangeline Street in Columbia, MO 65201. The fee for this one-day event is $25 for BOMH Members and $35 for Non-Members. A box lunch will be provided as well as water, coffee, and soda as well as light snacks throughout the day.

Check in will begin at 9:00 am with a Membership Meeting for all starting at 10:00 am. The Board will report on current and future activities as well as recognize the most recent juried members. We will then have a short break before lunch, which is included with the small registration fee. Lunch choices will be available at the time of registration which will open up online March 1, 2024, and remain open until April 5th.

After lunch we will have a 2-hour presentation by Kevin Desrosiers Public Speaker, Coach and Award-Winning Author of Bridge over Adversity. Mr. Desrosiers will speak to us about the Ins and Outs of AI (Artificial Intelligence) and the Pros and Cons for Artist. He is more than happy to address your questions and how AI affects the future of art.

This should be an excellent presentation for all. More information to come but go ahead and mark your calendars now so you can Save the Date of Saturday April 13, 2024. You will not want to miss this, live in person Professional Development opportunity.

BOMH PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Hello, Best of Missouri Hands members and friends!

I hope 2024 is treating you well so far. BOMH has several ways for you to get more involved with the organization, make new friends, and expand your artistic horizons this year!

- The deadline for the Best of Missouri Hands Professional Development Grant is fast approaching! This grant of up to $500 is awarded annually and is available to both juried and general members. If there is a new piece of equipment you have your eye on, or if you are dreaming of taking a class that seems out of reach, I encourage you to apply. The deadline to apply for this year's grant is February 15. Additional details and the grant application form are here: <https://bestofmissourihands.org/portfolio/bomh-professional-development-grant/>

- Also coming very soon is our winter jury session. Juried status in Best of Missouri Hands offers many benefits: a page on the BOMH website, juried member stickers and banners, the ability to participate in our Visiting Artist program, and, for me anyway, a real sense of accomplishment. It took me a couple of tries to jury in to BOMH, but I felt the critiques I received were helpful, and were given with respect and caring. If you've been thinking about taking this step, please do! Our next jury session opens February 1 and closes February 14. More information, and a PowerPoint of sample jury images, is available here (please note, you must be a general member of BOMH for 90 days before applying for juried membership): <https://bestofmissourihands.org/member-registration/juried-member/>

- Our Annual Meeting will be held April 13, 2024, at the Electric Cooperative Community Room in Columbia, Mo. More information on this in-person meeting is in this newsletter and available on our website.
- The BOMH Visiting Artist Program connects juried artists with groups that want to hear about your artist life and see what you are making. Artists visit school classrooms, nursing homes, and other eligible groups to bring the arts to life for eager learners. This is a great way to share your art with folks who might not otherwise visit a gallery or show. Plus, we will pay you to do this! BONUS! Interested? Please contact Nina Miller, our Visiting Artist Committee Chair, for details: nina-miller@att.net
- Our BOMH Member Only Encouragement/Brainstorming/Friendship Group meets on the first Tuesday of each month at 10AM via Zoom. This is a casual member gathering where we chat about what is going on in with our art and/or businesses. We share struggles and successes, and just generally have a good time. The Facebook page for the group is here: <https://www.facebook.com/groups/238812963758783>
- Our Professional Development Zoom Workshops are usually held on the second Tuesday of each month at 10AM, again via Zoom. We have hosted a number of workshops on a variety of topics. Watch the BOMH Member Only Facebook page for workshop announcements: <https://www.facebook.com/groups/678962638874863>
- Many of our past workshops are available on our YouTube Channel. If you've missed a workshop, or want to share one of our sessions with your fellow artists or friends, check out our lineup here (and subscribe to our channel while you're at it): <https://www.youtube.com/@bestofmissourihands9891>
- And to plant a seed...we will soon be looking for people to run for the Best of Missouri Hands Board of Directors. General, juried, and corporate members are eligible to serve on our board. We'd love to have you join us! You can contact any board member for more information: <https://bestofmissourihands.org/bomh-board-of-directors/>

So many things! I hope you'll take advantage of some of the great opportunities Best of Missouri Hands has for you.

Until next time,
Annie Webster

PS – Mark your calendars! ArtSmart 2025 will be March 28 – 30, 2025 in Columbia, MO. We'd love to hear your suggestions on topics to cover, or speakers to invite to the conference. Please send your recommendations to me at annie@websterfiberarts.com

ART for the AGES

Master pewtersmiths Tom and Pat Hooper bring a functional, centuries-old art form to today's appreciative collectors.

STORY Danita Allen Wood

Scottish shortbread cookie stamps, port cups, Portuguese candle holders, New England beakers, salt cellars, colonial table chalices, Scottish quishes (two-handled drinking cups), wine tastevin sommeliers (wine-tasting cups)—if it was made of pewter at any point in history, Thomas and Patricia Hooper at ASL Pewter have recreated it.

Tom is the master craftsman, and Pat is the master saleswoman, as well as a pewtersmith herself. Either one can tell you anything about when and how pewter was used in the past. But they are also both entertainers. When showing off a three-pint mug, either one might say, "Honest, honey, I've only had one." If you're lucky, you might find them in historical costume in their shop in Ste. Genevieve, where they do daily demonstrations of their craft.

Tom might be applying pressure with wooden tools to pewter on a lathe to shape it or welding and hammering it. Pat might be pouring pewter into a mold or doing the fine finishes.

About those molds: Tom and Pat began collecting them in 2000, and they haven't stopped. They have about 200 molds predating 1840. One spoon mold dates to 1650, and a few Paris molds are from the 1700s, one of which is a 1750 mold for a crucifix.

While historically accurate pewter is their specialty, the artisans add whimsical touches to many pieces, giving them contemporary flair. A pewter box with a magenta dogwood on the lid, a soap dish with a mermaid alongside, or an oil lamp with octopus tentacles on the base are examples. "Is that traditional? No," Pat says. "But is it fun? Oh, heck yes!"

Pewter is one of the oldest known alloys, dating back to the Bronze Age. It is a tin-based alloy, with some combination of silver, copper, bismuth, or antimony. ASL Pewter's alloy is the same one designated by the London Pewterer's Guild as "Fine Pewter" in 1635, and it consists of 92 percent tin, 2 percent copper, and 6 percent antimony. Their pewter is 100 percent lead-free, so it can be used for food and beverages. And while the fine finishes of pewter glow like silver, pewter does not tarnish or need to be polished. You simply wash it with warm, soapy water and dry it with a soft, dry cloth. Pat says, "We've heard that Martha Stewart called pewter the Tupperware of the 18th century, because it was so emblematic of the middle class." She uses that line a lot with customers.

The Hoopers are known nationally for their fine pewter craftsmanship. They made all the pewter pieces you see in the HBO John Adams miniseries, have done custom work for Disney Universal Studios, Colonial Williamsburg, George Washington's Gristmill, the US Supreme Court, and The Sydney Opera House in Australia, among many other special commissions. They were honored to create ornaments for the White House Christmas tree in 2002.

Pat and Tom met in California in 1989, while they were both living in Sacramento. Tom grew up in Fresno and Pat at Redondo Beach. They met at a Renaissance Faire in Hanford, where Tom was making incense and fragrances. Kindred creative spirits and both passionate about American history, they married a year later at the same Renaissance Faire.

Tom taught himself pewtersmithing when customers of his incense and fragrance business asked for accessories. The couple moved to Salem, Missouri, in 1995. They chose Missouri to escape California's difficult-to-meet regulations on their foundry, plus this state's comparatively low cost of living and reasonable taxes. In 1999, they moved to Clarksville and eventually to Louisiana, Missouri. They were part of the Providence Project dedicated to building a coordinated arts community in Hannibal, Louisiana, and Clarksville.

In 1998, Tom begged Harry Schneider, a pewtersmith located in Rocheport, to teach him the technique of metal spinning. Years later, when the student had surpassed the teacher, Harry would ask Tom, "Show me what you're doing that you can't be doing"—because Tom would push the metal as far as it would go and beyond the limits of most pewtersmiths. He did this by free-form air spinning the metal to create, for example, a bowl with ruffled edges, an oil lamp with a bell-shaped form at the top, and a kitchen salt bowl with a flared top edge.

"I see a shape of something, and then I try it. I can always melt it down if it doesn't work, like my parents should have done with my little brother," Tom says, jesting.

Tom and Pat, fascinated by the historic town of Ste. Genevieve for years, made the move there in 2014 and opened their shop in January 2015. They believe it's important to give back to their community, whether that's a community of artists or the towns where they've lived. They've served as officers in the Best of Missouri Hands and are charter members of Traditional Handcrafters of America. Tom has served on the Ste. Genevieve Tourism Tax Commission, and Pat has been vendor coordinator for Ste. Genevieve's French Heritage Festival. Tom is currently on the Landmarks (Historic Preservation) Commission.

Their shop in Ste. Genevieve showcases all of their beautiful, functional pewterware, perhaps destined to become your next family heirloom.

Meet the Hoopers on Missouri Life TV Season 4 at MissouriLife.com/mv. See selected items at MissouriLife.com/shop. Or visit ASLPewter.com.

MONTHLY BOMH ENCOURAGEMENT ZOOM MEETINGS

Can you believe we have entered a brand-new year? How exciting! Are you looking to recharge? Need motivation, accountability, someone to bounce ideas off, or just time with other creatives? Feel free to pop in. Kick the New "Creative" Year off with a ZOOM BOOM! I don't even know if that's a thing, I just made it up.... But we would definitely enjoy having you join us.

BOMH Encouragement Zoom Meetings are the first Tuesday of every month at 10:00 AM. Everyone is welcome. We just chit chat about everything and anything. Ask your questions about shows, marking, social media, whatever.... this is a great group to bounce things off of. Don't hesitate to get involved. We are here to help.

BOMH Morning Meeting: Encouraging, Brainstorming & Friendship

To join these Zoom meetings use the following link

<https://us02web.zoom.us/j/85132488499...>

Meeting ID: 851 3248 8499

Passcode: 614780

OR go to www.zoom.us and use the above Meeting ID and Passcode.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT WORKSHOP ON YOUTUBE

Hey, if you missed this month's, BOMH Professional Development Workshop "Moving Forward as We Recap 2023" What Worked, What Didn't....You can now catch it on the BOMH YouTube Channel. The Chat is also included on YouTube, as some helpful links were discussed.

We did record this session, but it is PRIVATE, and we ask that you please not share the link. This is for BOMH Members Only.

Thank you to all who participated in the conversation. It was very informative. We have a great group of folks to learn from, bounce ideas off, network with, and I love hanging out with other creative souls.

Mark your calendars now...Next month's Professional Development Zoom Workshop will be Tuesday February 13th at 10:00 AM and will be all about Cyano Type Printing. It will be led by juried BOMH fiber artist Annie Webster and juried BOMH photographer Carol Estes. Sure to be an interesting and educational workshop. Reminder and link will be shared here in the group closer to event.

Each month we offer a different topic. If you have something you would like to see covered or discussed, please send an email to admin@bestofmissourihands.org.

Now....for January's recording...Remember, please do not share this link. Thank You. <https://youtu.be/j6OXUxGtdVQ>

VISITING ARTISTS PROGRAM

VISITING ARTISTS

WE WANT YOU!

JURIED ARTISTS

1. Are you a Best of Missouri Hands Juried Artist?
2. Would you like to talk to a group about how you make your art?
3. Can you get paid to do this?

If you answer yes to the first two questions, then the answer to the third question is YES!

BOMH Visiting Artist Program will pay you $100 when you visit a classroom, senior citizen or other eligible group and talk about your life as an artist and demonstrate your art form.

It's easy to find a classroom or other group that would like you to visit - tell them it's free; you'll bring samples of your work; and if you like, you can bring supplies for the group to do a project. You'll be reimbursed up to $100 for those supplies.

Contact Nina Miller nina-miller@att.net for more info or to confirm details for your visit once you have a group selected.

SPECIAL REQUEST: SEEKING JURIED ARTIST FOR CLASSROOM PRESENTATIONS IN OSAGE R-2 DISTRICT

Any juried artists who live near Osage R-2 school district who would like to make a Visiting Artist demo visit? A high school art teacher/art club sponsor seeks 2 visits: one to art students during class and one after school for the club. For a visit you are paid a stipend of $100 plus an additional reimbursement up to $100 for supplies if you do a project with the students.

The teacher would love to have artists in any mediums. She has a ceramic studio, so a wheel is available. There is an industrial arts room too. The club has shown interest in repairing a metal sculpture outside the school. It needs welding. The teacher is hoping to have a few artists during this semester - so even if you're not free right now, you could set up a later date. Please contact me 618-978-9773 or nina-miller@att.net
THANKS!

MORE ARTIST OPPORTUNITIES

Do you teach?

The BOMH Board is compiling a list of members who offer art workshops. Arts organizations are often looking for artists to present to their members, and the public loves to take classes. Whether you offer workshops in your own space or travel to educate others, we'd like to know who you are! If you'd like to be included in this list, please email your information to annie@websterfiberarts.com.
