Ribbons and Magazine Spotlights for Amy Jamison

A couple exciting things that have happened lately.

I received a first place ribbon in the 2-D category at the Queeny Park Art Fair over the weekend. I feel so honored any time I win an award, it's truly humbling with the amount of great artwork out there. The artists that participate are very supportive of one another and you can't ask for more than that.

I was also interviewed by St. Louis Homes and Lifestyles magazine for their September edition. It's a little surreal seeing my photos in a magazine. I'm feeling very grateful.

Here's a link for the online article. Check out the whole magazine if you have time, it has some stunning home inspiration ideas.

*In addition to this wonderful news, Amy will also be showing this coming weekend at the St. Louis Art Fair in Clayton, Mo.

Update from Fred Schollmeyer

I need to update my Facebook family and friends with some of my recent art related activities. I'm very excited to have my painting "Sunset Over the Hay Barn" featured in Artist Magazine's "Best of Acrylic Painting 13." It's my second consecutive year to have a painting featured in the magazine which is published each fall.

Next up, I had a very unusual situation occur with the Watercolor USA and the Missouri Top 50 exhibit at the Missouri State Fair. I was lucky to have my two paintings “Keep the Light On” and “Embracing the Light” accepted into the Watercolor USA exhibit at the Spiva Center for the Arts in Joplin. The reception was held in early June and neither piece sold. As with most exhibits, if a painting doesn’t sell at the reception, it is not likely to sell during the remainder of the exhibit. Since it didn’t sell during the reception, I submitted “Keep the Light On” for consideration for the Top 50 exhibit at the Missouri State Fair and later I was notified that it was accepted. Then on July 24th, the second to last day of the Watercolor USA exhibit, I was notified that it had sold. Fortunately for me, the buyer allowed me to exhibit the piece in the Top 50 anyway and I delivered it after the close of the fair.

I was very fortunate to again receive the “Best in Painting” award at the annual art fair “Salute to the Arts” in Fairview Heights, Illinois held the last weekend in August. My first year exhibiting there in 2024, I received the same award. Last year I received the second place “Award for Achievement” in the painting category. It was 90 degrees at set up and we had to cart our booth display and artwork about 50 yards to our assigned space. Due to the excessive heat, we spent three hours setting up, taking numerous breaks. We usually set up in an hour and a half.

Capital Arts had a themed exhibit this summer entitled “Reimagined Masterpieces.” My painting “The Persistence of Technology” received first place. It is based on Dali’s “The Persistence of Memory.”

I have two more outdoor art festivals planned this fall. I will be at “Art in the Park” St Louis Hills on Sunday, September 27th located at Francis Park, and I will also be doing the “Historic Shaw Art Festival” on October 10th and 11th located in the Shaw neighborhood also in St Louis.

If interested, please visit my website www.fredschollmeyer.com or www.dailypaintworks.com. Thanks for looking!

National Watercolor Society Grants Signature Status to Jan Helton

Soooo excited and honored to report that I have been invited to become a Signature Member of the National Watercolor Society! Thank you to the Jurors of Selection Ratrinda Das, Robbie Laird, and Gale Webb who reviewed my accepted piece ("What Is and Is to Come") along with the three others shown here!

Attaining Signature Status in this prestigious organization has been one of my highest goals!

The NWS 106th International Open Exhibition will be on display at the NWS Gallery in San Pedro, CA from October 1 through November 1, 2026.

Dave Walker Wins Award at Missouri 50 Exhibit!

Dave Walker had two fabric landscapes collages accepted into the Missouri 50 Exhibit at the Missouri State Fair. He won a second place ribbon for his fabric collage titled "Good Morning America"

The Missouri 50 is a prestigious, annual juried fine arts exhibition showcasing the work of contemporary Missouri artists. The competition selects exactly 50 entries to be displayed on the second floor in the Fine Arts Building during the fair.

Janis Burgen Wins Big at Missouri State Fair

I was blessed so many times at the Missouri State Fair!

One is to be able to work at what I love! Another is being around so many Beautiful people that all are different in their own ways!

I won a nice award while exhibiting in the Fine Arts Building for my fiber piece! Then in the same week It Sold!
It was on exhibit throughout the ten days of the fair before going to its new home.

Also if you attended the fair, you might have seen me, I was the resident Artist in Fiber Monday thru Friday one week! God is Good!!!!

St. Louis Lambert Airport to feature artwork by Sculpture Adam Long

I'm honored to be invited to exhibit my Forest Figures at Lambert St. Louis International Airport in 2027!

JoAnna Jackson of Nestfeathers featured in Where Women Create

Such a lovely surprise to see Nestfeathers in the pages of Where Women Create.

Thank you to Where Women Create for including Nestfeathers in the August issue. I'm so grateful to be part of a publication that celebrates creativity, artists, and makers.

It's always special to see your work out in the world.

Lake Arts Council News

Good afternoon,

My name is Ann-Monique Loughborough, and I serve on the board of the Lake Arts Council. I'm excited to be helping plan this year's Festival of the Arts, taking place this October!

I wanted to share our vendor information with your artists.

We are working to rebuild this once-annual event and are excited about the opportunity to grow it into a vibrant, well-attended festival over the coming years.

We would love to welcome artists from across the extended Missouri area and hope to see many of them participate in this year's festival! Please feel free to reach out to me directly with any questions, or you may contact the Lake Arts Council using the information and vendor applications.

Warmly,

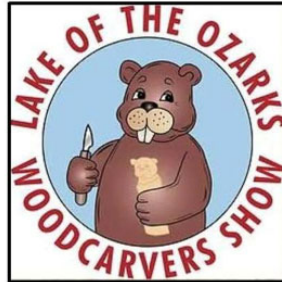

Ann-Monique Loughborough

New Vintage & Artisan Market in Jefferson City Seeking Artist & Artisans

Hi! My name is Amy Reed, and I'm one of the owners of The Eras Collective, a new Vintage & Artisan Market opening soon in Jefferson City, Missouri.

I'm reaching out because we believe vintage and handmade go hand in hand. Vintage pieces tell the stories of the past, while artisans create the heirlooms of tomorrow. By bringing the two together, we hope to create a unique shopping experience rooted in craftsmanship, creativity, and an appreciation for pieces made by the talented hands of local artisans.

We're currently looking for talented Missouri artisans and makers to join us.

If you are interested, our application can be found on The Eras Collective's Facebook page or on our website at www.erasjcmo.com. Everyone who submits an application will also receive an invitation to our upcoming Information & Preview Night as construction and cosmetic updates near completion.

Thank you for taking the time to read this and for supporting Missouri's incredible community of artisans.

ARTSMART 2027

SEEKING SHENANIGAN LEADERS

Hello Everyone,

Many details for ArtSmart 2027 are set...Date, Location, Speaker. Now we are seeking Shenanigan Leaders! If you have been to ArtSmart in the past you know how much fun this evening of art and craft creating is. Previously known as Friday Night Frolics, it has been renamed to Saturday Night Shenanigans! All the same fun you have come to know and love, just on a different night.

If you are new to ArtSmart...let me tell you this is a fun filled, educational, networking weekend. One of the highlights is getting together with your fellow artists and creatives to roll up your sleeves and dig into a medium you have never tried before, or relax doing something you have always loved. At our last ArtSmart in 2025, we had leaders that helped guide participants in book binding, working with gourds, relief carving, creating folded books, how to wire wrap a pendant, and reverse painting on glass. You could even paint your own bowling pin if you were so inclined.

You can move table to table and try your hand at as many of the activities that you like. We are seeking leaders that would be willing to share their skills and oversee a table. You pick what it is you would like to teach, we provide you the space and $100 towards materials needed. We are looking for 5 or 6 Shenanigan Leaders for ArtSmart 2027. One spot has been filled by Peggy King who will lead a table in Creating with Polymer Clay! It is going to be a great ArtSmart and a SUPER FUN Saturday Night Shenanigans. We just need YOU!

Interested? Contact Kim Carr by message on Facebook or email at kimmerhaw@yahoo.com Please put BOMH - ArtSmart in the subject line so your email doesn't get overlooked. Thank you.

INSPIRE ENGAGE CONNECT

Guest Speaker
Diane Scott
Founding director and principal designer of the Artist INC.

We are very excited to welcome Diane Scott to ArtSmart 2027 as our guest speaker. She will be talking with us on both Saturday and Sunday helping us to adapt and implement tactics to not only survive as an artist, but thrive. Her topics will include:

Trust Artists: Moving from Words to Action

The world is facing a multitude of challenges including rapid climate change, the rise of artificial intelligence, and increasing polarization. If we look back at the history of humanity, it's always been artists who have brought us to an understanding of ourselves. The stereotype of artists (even among artist communities) would paint them as unreliable, while evidence from the pandemic shows that artists are more than worthy of our trust. Knowing the needs facing our turbulent world, how can artists thwart the stereotype and trust themselves.

Strategic Management for Artists

In a world of perpetually changing communication, distribution, and technology, artists face innumerable and rapidly altering challenges to creating enduring artistic practices. A strategic management framework gives a lasting foundation and holistic understanding of the broader system of the artist in the arts economy, while simultaneously helping artists identify contemporary tools and tactics to implement in service of their self-determined ideals of artistic success in their individual creative practices.

MEET OUR GUEST SPEAKER

Diane R. Scott (she/her) is an arts administrator, educator, and writer specializing in the development of resources and programming to support artists in the management of enduring artistic practices.

The Director of Artist Services at the Regional Arts Organization Mid-America Arts Alliance, Scott is the founding director and principal designer of the Artist INC professional development program. Now in its 18th year, Artist INC programs have been completed by more than 3,500 artists. Diane is also a noted professor winning numerous teaching awards. She specializes in creative entrepreneurship and has worked with thousands of artists and arts administrators in traditional classrooms and professional development settings to improve their strategic planning, marketing, project planning, financial, fundraising, leadership, communication, and evaluation skills.

Scott's book Artist Entrepreneurship for Life: Making Art Work for You was released by Routledge in 2025.

We will be joined by juried BOMH Fiber and Jewelry artist, Lois Jacobs, for a Virtual Studio Tour.

"Papermaking is my passion and has been for over 20 years! Being retired from teaching, I can now pursue my passion. I then took three metals classes with Sherri Jaude's at Maryville University in which we explored metal formation, casting and fabrication. Wanting to incorporate my papermaking with the metals, I developed miniature "word" books in which the papers were large enough for only one drawn word and the covers were metal. A friend suggested that I add a chain so they could be worn close to the heart – being precious. Thus my “word” book necklaces came into being.”
