As summer wanes, I love watching the change in colors on the farm. We have gone from greens to browns in the corn fields and golden in the bean fields. When these changes happen, I know it will be time to shift from outdoor shows to indoor shows. I hope everyone checks out shows and supports artists they have never seen before. I made it to the Queeny show and met new artists.

The Board is busy planning next year's ArtSmart. If you have any suggestions or would like to help, let the board know. It will be a fantastic weekend!

I hope everyone finishes summer with a bang!

MEMBER NEWS

I participated in the 2nd annual Pleinair Event in Jefferson City on September 14th. I painted in the Governor's Garden with a view to the Capital. I started about 9 am and was told at noon there would be a wedding and I need to leave before 1:30. Then a few minutes later I was forced out because they wanted pictures where I was painting. Meantime the news paper reporter asked me a few questions and watched me paint. He decided to back up and turned over my thinner.

Now I was forced out of the garden and had no thinner to clean my brushes. The story took a turn, I got third place in the event, my interview in the News Paper and the Brides Mom bought my painting as a surprise for the Bride!

As you all know, hearts have always played an important part in my artwork. My father had the biggest and best heart of anyone I've ever known and I've always tried to put a little piece of his heart in everything I do. Once again, I find myself immersed in another heart journey as my husband prepares for Open Heart Surgery on September 30th.. Due to the surgery date, I unfortunately will not be able to participate in the Sababa Festival on the 29th. I will be switching gears and playing the nurse role in October but I hope to be back at festivals/art shows by the 19th of October at the Sunset Hills Makers Market.

Once life settles down, I will let you know where to find me for the holiday season. I have a few gift ideas for you!!

Much love to you all!

The elegant creations artist and metalsmith Leigh Roberts constructs in precious metals and gemstones to reflect her love of beauty in all things — nature, architecture, art and the world. Her designs speak to her penchant for creating individualistic, idiosyncratic pieces each time she takes up her torch. Her explorations with the arrangement of materials, texture, color and pattern result in wearable works of art disguised as jewelry.

of the Special School District to develop vocational assessments for students.

She wasn't producing her own art during her years in education, but she continued to orbit the art world. "I got my art fixes by traveling and going to art museums and art shows," she says. She also learned about the art business along the way.

Ten years ago, she re-entered the art world, taking classes at the now-shuttered Glasshopper Studio. About the same time she joined the Midwest Metalsmiths and

The Missouri Artisans Association/Best of Missouri Hands has been working on bringing some interesting old catalogues to the BOMH website. The materials had to be scanned; a Herculean task undertaken by BOMH Juried Member Christine Lohse.

So in the not-to-distant future, you'll find catalogues produced by the Missouri Artisans Business Development Association beginning in 1986. You'll find informative historical information on the creation of what was then MABDA (later to become Best of Missouri Hands). You'll find photos of members from back then (some you'll recognize as still around!) as well as images of their work and a write up about them.

Fascinating stuff. We'll let you know when the catalogues become available via the BOMH Facebook pages.

The exhibit showcased around 90 pieces in a variety of mediums; pastels, oils, printmaking, glass, photography, fibers, acrylics, watercolor, wood, and ceramics. It was a fantastic opportunity to view the best of Missouri all in one place!

The show was located at Jacoby Arts Center at 627 E Broadway in Alton, IL. The exhibit ran from July 17th through August 30th with an opening reception on August 2nd from 6pm to 8pm with awards for 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and three Honorable Mentions being announced.

This was an incredible exhibit and BOMH was honored to have Jacoby Arts Center host our latest edition of, "On The Road." Be sure to watch for future "On The Road" exhibit opportunities with the Best of Missouri Hands.

BOMH PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT GRANT

DEADLINE: February 15, 2025

The Best of Missouri Hands offers up to $500 for our Annual Professional Development Grant. The grant is awarded each year and is available to both General and Juried Members. The purpose of the grant is to promote continuing education by providing additional resources to advance the study of a member's chosen artistic medium(s).

The grant will be awarded by early March of each year and announced at the Annual Membership Meeting in the spring of each year.

If you are interested in applying for the grant, you should be thinking about what you would like to do with it. Is there a workshop you want to take in your medium? Do you want to travel abroad to learn about a technique native to that country? Do you need to purchase a new piece of equipment that will help you advance your skills and opportunities? How about taking classes in marketing and branding your art?

There are many options open to you. What have you wanted to do with your art that has been out of your reach - something that will open doors for you or allow you to become more marketable?

CALLS FOR ART

Opening night for "An Art Fall Experience " was Friday September 13th in the heart of Delmar loop featuring local artists on all things fall themed. We had live music, alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks, with awards announced at 8pm. Judge was Chris Mouser. "Immerse yourself in the beauty and mystery of autumn at the 'An-Art Fall Experience'. Through the eyes of talented artists, feel the crunch of vibrant leaves, the warmth of home-cooked meals, and the eerie charm of haunted nights with masked figures.

The next call for art is about to open up. "First Frost" being Curated by Allison Norfleet B, and co-curated by Michelle Volkman for an Artisans In The Loop show.

Artisans in the Loop is opening its doors for teachers who would like a small space to teach/Demo/lecture in the heart of St. Louis on Delmar. Easy access parking, various food places near by for snack breaks, create surrounded by artistic talent. Teach in peace with gallery closed hours with an intimate setting. Teachers need only their art supplies, some students and a create spirit.

A great option for teachers who have a following and would like to add a unique location to teach in.

Artisans in the Loop

BOMH Corporate/Gallery Member

Hi everyone. The last few years have been a bit difficult for artists who depend solely on good art shows. I own a successful art gallery in Chesterfield. I have owned the gallery for ten years. I will be stepping back and am looking to add two more artists. We are six wall artists and I am looking for someone to replace half my space and a 3d artist to work 5-6 hours per week. My artists have built a great following and a good, solid monthly income. If you may be interested or want to hear more details, DM me at Sherry Salant. The gallery is H- art and Soul gallery.
